CHAPMAN'S MEN
CARRY ROGERS.

Tenderloin Commander on the Sharp Lookout for Excise Offenders.

TESTING THE PARTITIONS.
Question Raised as to Whether a Tax Certificate Is Property.

Excise Statistics Show That Over 7,300 Saloons and Hotels Are Now Running in New York City.

IT WILL BE SETTLED IN COURT.
The most interesting feature of Raines law developments yesterday, in many respects, the activity of Police Captain Chapman in the Tenderloin District. He started with the arrest of a waiter at the Bijou Cafe, at Third Street and Sixth avenue, early in the morning, and followed by arresting a waiter named Simon Brown in the hotel at Sixth avenue and Twenty-sixth street, at noon.

Besides this his activity resulted in the closing of two well-known cafes, the first being the old Lyceum, next door to the Lyceum Theatre, and the large saloon at Thirty-second street and Fourth avenue.
The captain and his men displayed the greatest activity that has been shown since the police force started in to enforce the new law.

The Tenderloin had no less than fifteen men out in plain clothes, hammering at partitions, inspecting stalls, and measuring floor and air surfaces. The men carried saws, squares and compasses, and made a tour of Seventh, Sixth, Fifth and Fourth avenues. To-day they will try Broadway and as many side streets as possible.

"There are over four hundred saloons and hotels in my precinct," said the Captain, as he returned to the station house early in the evening and threw himself upon a couch in his office, "but by Saturday I expect to know to a certainty whether or not any one of them is violating the law. Such as I find have not complied with all the requirements I shall warn, and if the warning be not heeded arrests will quickly follow."

After the Shenandoah Club.
The Captain believes that he has a clear case against the Young Men's Shenandoah Club, formerly called the Bijou Cafe. The manager, Mr. Hinchman, secured the club charter Monday and thoughtlessly paid the initiation fee of twenty-five cents for a police man in plain clothes. His waiter, John Roach, was thereupon arrested on two charges, one of selling liquor to a person not a member, while the other charge was brought against Mr. Hinchman, who was charged with selling liquor in No. 504 Sixth avenue, when his tax certificate called for the sale in No. 502. The bar is at the former number, while the restaurant is at the latter, the two rooms being connected by a doorway some three or four feet wide.
There is no door between the two apartments, but the Captain claims that the law was violated because the bar is not separated from all parts of the room, and that the two apartments are separate and distinct premises.

Both Hinchman and the waiter were held for further examination by Magistrate Mott next Friday. The arrest of Simon Brown was made at noon, and was brought about because he is alleged to have sold a glass of beer to a detective in an apartment which the detective deemed was a room under the interpretation of Senator Raines.
Brown was also held for examination next Friday.

A case of the most absorbing interest to every saloon and hotel keeper in the State was brought into the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court yesterday for a decision.
It is the case of the People vs. Michael and Giovanni Durante. On July 1 last the defendants took out a liquor tax certificate, paying $800, to transact a retail liquor business at No. 61 James street. On July 17 they gave a mortgage on their stock, fixtures, good will and on the certificate to the brewer's agent to secure the payment of $400. The business did not prosper, and on July 30 they surrendered the tax certificate to the Excise Department and received their pro rata rebate on the certificate as provided by law.

They had some dispute with the agent as to the amount they owed the brewer, with the result that the agent secured indicements against them under section 571 of the Penal Code, charging that they had, in rendering their certificate, made themselves guilty of "selling property subject to a mortgage with intent to defraud the holder of the mortgage."

tax certificate was "property" within the meaning of the law.
There was a settlement of the claim after the indictment, but that did not relieve the brothers of the criminal charge against them. They were tried before Recorder Coff and a jury, found guilty, and each sentenced to one month in the penitentiary.
Their counsel, John Mitchell, then brought forth the novel plea that a tax certificate was not property and was not, therefore, subject to a mortgage. He claimed that a certificate was merely a privilege, and so applied to Justice Fryor, in the Supreme Court for a certificate of reasonable doubt.
After a lengthy consideration of the case, the Justice decided that the point was well taken, and granted the certificate of doubt.
The case will be argued in the Appellate Division at the June term.

Brandy in Candy.
Captains Schmittberger, of the West Thirty-seventh Street Station, and Walsh, of the West Twentieth Street Station, asked for warrants yesterday, which may be regarded as one of the direct results of the Raines law agitation. The warrants were asked for candy manufacturers who will insist upon putting about half a teaspoonful of brandy in certain kinds of candy. It is said that enormous quantities of this candy are sold, mostly to young girls and matrons. Magistrate Mott told the captains that they would have to wait until candy which they submitted to the court analyzed before asking for the warrants.

Captain Conlin yesterday afternoon told a delegation of saloon keepers who called upon him that the amended Raines law, which provides for the removal of partitions and obstructions of the interior of the saloons, did not apply to back rooms, which were entirely independent of the saloons or dividing partitions running from door to ceiling.
At excise headquarters it was stated last evening that 7,334 certificates had been issued in this city, and that $5,148,750 had been realized.

CROCKER'S LOST WALLET.
It Contained the Millionaire's Railroad Passes and Tickets, and He Wants It Back.

W. H. Crocker, second son of the late Charles Crocker, the Pacific Railroad's magnate, is now staying at the Netherland Hotel, and advertised in yesterday's papers for a lost pocketbook. The advertisement reads:

LOST—Pocketbook, containing money, railroad, Pullman sleeping car, telegraph and telephone passes; also American Hotel steamship tickets, and owner's money, by returning to undersigned under will be liberally rewarded; is owner sails by steamship St.
Louis Wednesday, return should be made today. Wm. H. Crocker, Hotel Netherland, 30th and 5th ave.

Mr. Crocker left the hotel at 9 o'clock Monday morning, and upon his return found he was without his pocketbook.
Having stopped at a dozen places during his walk, he has no idea where it was lost.

With a party of San Francisco friends and relatives, Mr. Crocker sails for Europe this morning at 10 o'clock.

Though he expresses solicitude for his passes and tickets, it is not probable that he will miss them greatly, as his immense railroad holdings amply entitle him to transportation.

Those who will call in company with Mr. Crocker are Prince Polnowski, W.
W. Cowles, Constant Drosso and W.
Waralamb.

Here is what some of the great newspapers say of the STANDARD AMERICAN ENCYCLOPEDIA:

From the Christian Advocate, New York:
It is brought down to date, it is the new-it is the most concise and compact—concise in the construction of its various articles, presenting the largest amount of

From the New York Herald:
For general information there is no work
